Michigan's Top 10 Strategic Education Plan

- Expand early childhood learning opportunities
- Improve early literacy achievement
- Improve the health, safety, and wellness of all learners
- Expand secondary learning opportunities for all students
- Increase the percentage of all students who graduate from high school
- Increase the percentage of adults with a post-secondary credential
- Increase the numbers of certified teachers in areas of shortage
- Provide adequate and equitable school funding

Why is there an educator shortage?

- There is a teacher shortage in many states across the country. What factors have exacerbated the shortage in Michigan?
- Michigan ranked 50th of 50 states in total education revenue growth, inflation-adjusted, from 1995 to 2015 according to a Michigan State University study.

Why is there an educator shortage (continued)?

- In 2011, the legislature decreased funding by $470 per student. The result: teacher and other staff pay freezes and reductions, teacher and other staff layoffs, higher class sizes, and fewer support staff.
- Educators were mandated to pay a greater share of health insurance and retirement costs.
- The state mandate for annual evaluations of all educators was established in legislation that passed in 2009 and was updated with further legislation in June 2011. The requirement for use of student growth data, including state tests, in teacher ratings and the imposition of consequences for ineffective evaluations took effect a few years later.
